

The future of Politics

We, as a collective consciousness, are now approaching an epoch. We have reached an ending of the state of consciousness as we know it. A global awakening of consciousness is happening. We must now face the changes required to be able to move forward. We have to evolve or perish, just as the dinosaurs, when they reached their cataclysmic ending.

Historical overview of politics.

Our current era, since the ancient Sumerian times, have been marked by rulership of all types. We have seen the rise and fall of empires, kingdoms and nations. Most of the early empires were formed bathed in the blood of those who were conquered. We have as a collective consciousness, a bloody and violent track record.

Rulers were chosen based on how their ability to exert themselves is perceived. To overthrow existing rulers, one simply had to kill one and seize power. Later, we saw the development of democracy, and people were able to choose a ruler to lead a government. But even so, in recent times we have seen how an election process was manipulated to favour the election of a candidate who was not chosen by the votes of the people. Results can be manufactured. Outcomes can be decided before elections occur. Why does this system no longer serve the people? What has changed?

Evolution

We are perceived as individuals. We form family units and live in villages, towns and cities. These form part of larger collectives as nations. Imagine a raindrop forming from water particles in the air. As it becomes heavy, it forms a drop, and falls to the earth as a drop. It may end up in a stream, and eventually in a dam or a lake. It may even end up in a river and finally in the ocean. Each dam, lake or water body represents a collective. We are part of collectives. We have a family collective, city collective, national collective, and ultimately, our human consciousness, are a collective of all these other levels of collective consciousness.

As we evolve on an individual level, from childhood to adulthood, we also evolve as families, and as towns, as cities and as nations. We ultimately evolve as a planetary collective as well. Over centuries, our evolution has been guided by the collective human subconscious. We arrived today, understanding that our waking conscious mind, only makes up 5% of our total consciousness. The other 95% of the totality of who we are is hidden in our subconscious.

At the conscious level, we are governed by the Conscious Mind. The Conscious Mind, aka the Ego, perceives us as separate, as individuals. It operates on the Fight or Flight instinctive level. It thinks it is in charge. We experience anger, rage, hate at its worst.

Politicians, Emperors, and rulers are controlled by their egos, and ego driven agendas are causing wars, suffering and sickness. This has been the case for aeons. We do not have a good track record. We all have to go through this part of our evolutionary process. We are in the 3rd Density, where at Soul level, we spend about 75 000 years. The 3rd density is harsh, violent, ruthless and driven by the ego conscious mind.

Once we reach the end of this stage of our development, we awaken to certain realisations. We remember that we are not separate, but at subconscious soul level, we are one, we are joined together, we were never alone. We remember our divinity, and we embrace one another in a state of unconditional love. Once we reach this state of consciousness, we ascend from the 3rd density to the 4th density and we discard old ways, old habits, old systems.

The Earth Plane human collective consciousness is currently going through its early stages of awakening. This awakening has been triggered by the area of space the planet is currently moving through. Dolores Cannon has written books about this shift in human consciousness, which I would recommend as additional reading material.

Planet Earth too, is consciousness. Since the invention of nuclear bombs, she has called for help from the Higher Dimensions. Councils on these dimensions have responded and a decision was made to allow the Planet to ascend to the 4th density. In her current state she is too damaged to repair from nuclear tests, pollution and overpopulation. She has cried for help. The Galactic Councils have responded.

As Earth begins to ascend, and raise her vibration, the collective human consciousness is also given the opportunity to ascend. The process is already underway and we are now seeing the ending of the current density, and the early stages of the 4th density. All of this is closely monitored by the Galactic councils, and beings from the higher dimensions. From the perspective of the higher dimensions, this is a historic cosmic occasion. Never before has something of this magnitude been attempted. The eyes of the Cosmos are watching with great excitement. As this event progresses, we will see more UFO activity. But we will also see the tearing down and collapse of control systems that no longer serve the highest good of the human collective consciousness.

But we are facing resistance. There are those who would resist this ascension, by attempting to keep people locked in a perpetual state of fear and ignorance. They have implemented corrupt control systems to trap the collective in low vibrational states. Such control systems are Political, Financial, Educational, Scientific, Medical, Media and Religious, to name a few. They are no longer working in our best interest. In order for us as a collective consciousness to progress, these control systems must be torn down, demolished, and we as a collective have to rethink how we want to live in world moving to the next dimension. It is interesting to note that much of the decision making regarding our progress, is happening at the subconscious level. While the conscious mind appears to be blissfully unaware, we have already plotted our route through this process. The subconscious of every individual is connected to each other. The subconscious exists outside of space and time in a higher dimension. We are essentially multi-dimensional beings. Some of us have pre-programmed into our subconscious that we would become aware of what is happening, and it would trigger our awakening. The powers that be would try very hard to prevent people from awakening. It is being done through mass mainstream media manipulation and now with the Covid-19 pandemic and the vaccines.

Not every soul on the planet right now is ready to ascend to the 4th density. There are many who still have much of their 3rd density cycle to complete. After the earth ascension is completed, they will find other planets to complete their cycle on. Some of these souls are part of sub-collectives. Cities and communities where we see elevated crime, and a general low vibrational state, would be such. It was given to us by Archangel Raziel, that the African collective has also chosen not to ascend at this time. This was also confirmed by our Higher Self. Such choices are made at soul level. And when we have awakened and we have explored the Self at soul level we would be aware of this choice we have made at this level.

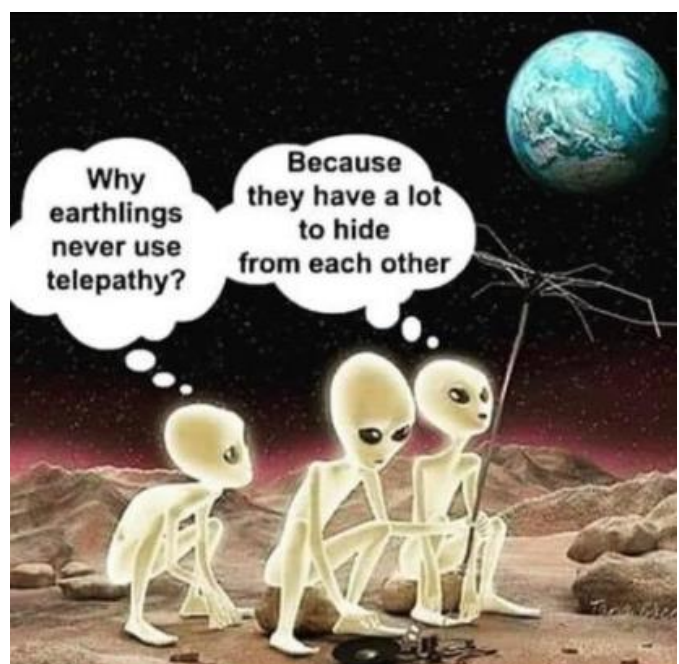

Politics of the 5th Dimension (4th Density)

It was first mentioned in the books of Dolores Cannon, Keepers of the Garden, on p204, that we do not currently as a collective have the correct vibrational state for the politics of the 4th density.

The collective has not established the Universal consciousness required for the 4th density yet. The politics of the 3D world is tarnished with greed for power and control, corruption, secrecy, hidden agendas etc. Politicians have forgotten that they are here to serve the people. We have elected them in good faith to serve us. But we see now that this is no longer the case. Democracy currently is an illusion. We simply cannot take this into the 4th density with us.

In the 4th density we will have telepathy as a means of communication. People will be able to read each other with perfect transparency. There will be no more secrets. As a result, there will no longer be hidden agendas. Politics will have to become free from and transcend the lust for power. It is a low vibrational state that will not be allowed to ascend. We will be required to embrace Universal consciousness. This means that the Media's portrayal of extra-terrestrials as dangerous and aggressive, is seen as a false portrayal. We still have to learn that we have countless friends living in the stars, coming to help us, and stand by us. We have many, many lessons to learn of selflessness, love and understanding. As I once read somewhere: when the love of power is transformed into the power of love, the world will be at peace.

Once we embrace our Galactic friends as our brothers and sisters, we will begin to work with them in the spirit of mutual respect, love and goodwill. Politics that divide will no longer work. Politics that do not allow for the spiritual development of the collective will be discarded. Religious control systems must be discarded as we transcend religion to pursue our spiritual development.

Politics that pit communities and races against each other will be outmoded and outdated. We will love unconditionally, those from the stars as well as those of our own collective. Leaders who wish to be elected for such leadership positions will need to embrace the new universal consciousness. They will be scrutinised, and every hidden agenda will be laid bare. It will be clear who is of higher vibration, as they will do the spiritual work required to raise their vibration. Their light will shine bright. Nobody will elect someone who is of a lower vibration, still operating on the level of ego. The ego of such politicians will be aware that it is not in charge, that the Soul is in charge. The ego will know it's place, and will be aligned with the Soul purpose at all times. The politicians of the 4th density will be required to have a very deep understanding of service to others, compared to the current state of service to self.

We still have a way to go to arrive at this state of consciousness. We have to wipe the slate clean, and start from nothing. But we know better now and therefore we can do better. It is our vote that counts, and we can choose the leadership that should represent us based on these criteria. If you have a politician who is awakened and has overcome their own ego states, those are the ones to vote for, and you would do well to support them. We can make it happen.
